RECORD OF DEATHS.

Short Sketches of the Lives of Persons Who Have Recently Passed Away.

REV. DAVID W. KELSO.

Rev. David William Kelso, died at his home at Knobsville, Monday afternoon, October 2, 1916, aged 75 years, 5 months, and 25 days, after an illness of less than a week of pneumonia. The funeral services, conducted by Rev. J. L. Yearick, of McConnellsburg, took place Wednesday morning, and interment was made in the cemetery at Knobsville.

Mr. Kelso was married December 24, 1863 to Miss Elizabeth Glunt. To this union were born eight children, five of whom are living: George of Dublin township; Mary (widow of Samuel Wilson); Laura, wife of Reuben Helman, Dublin township; Lewis and Elizabeth, wife of Clem Chesnut—all residing in Dublin township, this county. Mr. Kelso's first wife died July 26, 1880, August 10, 1884, Mr. Kelso was married to Miss Catherine Bradnick, who survives, together with the following children: David W., residing in Todd township; John Wesley, at home, and Emma, wife of Grover R. Peck, residing in Dublin township.

Mr. Kelso was a veteran of the Civil War, being a member of Company B, 126 regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers. He was mustered into service at Harrisburg, on the 12th of August, 1862 and mustered out in the same city in May 1863. He participated in the bloody battles of Fredericksburg and Chancellorsville.

Mr. Kelso was a member of the M. E. church and a man of sterling character. For many years he was a local preacher, and served the Harrisonville charge during a period of two years.

ALLISON S. EDWARDS.

Allison S. Edwards, a well known Fulton County citizen, died at his home in Wells Valley, Tuesday, September 26, 1916, aged about 67 years. The funeral, attended by a large number of sorrowing friends, was held on Friday afternoon, and interment was made in the cemetery at the Valley M. E. church.

After dinner Tuesday, he went out to a field on his farm and sowed some timothy seed. After he had done this he said to Harvey Bridenstine who was working for him that day, and who was harrowing the ground, "I am about played out," and Mr. Edwards went and sat down under an apple tree. Some time afterward, Harvey noticed that Mr. Edwards had lain down, he went to see whether Mr. Edwards was feeling worse, and was shocked to find him dead.

Mr. Edwards had been afflicted with diabetes for some time, and it is probable that his death was caused by heart-failure superinduced by diabetes.

Mr. Edwards was married to Miss Ruth Horton, a daughter of William Horton, deceased, who survives, as do also, two sisters: Nellie, wife of John Davis, Akron, Pa., and Mrs. Nettie Thornley, Philadelphia. The deceased was a consistent member of the M. E. Church, and a member of the Masonic fraternity. Ten members of Everett Lodge, went to the Valley and had charge of the funeral assisted by his pastor, Rev. J. W. Weise, of Three Springs.

JOHN HARRIS.

John Harris, aged 84, spent Wednesday night of last week in the home of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Margaret Lynch in the neighborhood of Laurel Ridge farmhouse in Ayr township. Thursday morning he left Mrs. Lynch's to go across the mountain to the home of a neighbor. Harris having been in somewhat frail health for some time, Mrs. Lynch accompanied him to the top of the mountain, and as Harris seemed entirely capa-

Railroad News.

On Wednesday evening of last week, a story was given to the Chambersburg Valley Spirit to the effect that Chambersburg capital was to build a railroad from McConnellsburg to a point in the Broadtop coal fields, the road to connect with the one now in course of construction between McConnellsburg and Fort Loudon. The route will be by way of Hustontown, New Grenada and Wells Tannery. M. C. Stoner, of Chambersburg, has leased 600 acres of coal lands said to contain over 4,000,000 tons of coal lying in two veins known as the "Barnett" and "Fulton" seams, and it is to get at this coal that the road is to be built. It is said that the two new roads will be placed under one management as soon as completed, and that the total length will be about 28 miles. The Chambersburg company interested is to be known as the Louise Coal Company. According to statement mentioned, work on the coal road will begin about middle of October.

Get Questions Ready.

As announced last week, three farmers' institutes will be held in the County in December. One of the features desired by the speakers is the question box. These men come to our county each year to learn conditions, as well as to instruct. Indeed, the value of the instruction depends largely on questions asked, as otherwise, the speakers have to guess at what will most interest us. Begin now to make a list of questions.

ble of continuing the journey alone, she returned to her home. On the following Sunday morning it was learned that Mr. Harris had not been seen since he left the top of the mountain on Thursday. A searching party was formed, and his lifeless body found in the woods near one of Jacob Everts's fields (formerly the David Myers farm). The condition of his body indicated that he had not been dead more than a day. The probabilities are, that he wandered from the road into the forest, became ill and perished.

The funeral conducted by Rev. Yearick, of McConnellsburg took place on Tuesday, and his remains were laid to rest in the cemetery at the Hebron church in the Corner.

Mr. Harris was born in Franklin county, October 25, 1832 came to Ayr township when about 5 years of age, and spent the remainder of his life there.

He was married to Miss Martha Gordon, who died in 1895. To this union nine children were born, seven of whom are living: Jefferson, McConnellsburg; Mary, wife of William Bishop, Ayr township; Miss Tenie, Chambersburg; Julia, wife of Edward Keffer, and George, Little Cove; Catherine, wife of John Bain, Webster Mills, and Lewis, Pana, Ill.

They had two children, one of whom is living, namely, Margaret, widow of William Ambrose, living near Dane. Funeral was held Wednesday, interment being made in Bethlehem cemetery.

SEPTEMBER HONOR ROLL.

Names of New Subscribers and Others Who Paid Subscription During the Month of September.

Look over the list. See the names of your friends. Is your name there? There are two reasons why it may not be there: You may be paid ahead. You may be behind. You may have meant to square up during September, and just neglected it. If you are just neglecting it, will you kindly look after it before you forget it. Look at the tab on your paper. If it is a 17 or 18 you are all right. If it is a 15, a 14, a 13, or worse, get right after it. Everything connected with the publishing of a newspaper has gotten awfully high. We need every cent coming to us, and that's no joke. Come across with the boodle and make us happy.

LIVING ON YOUR NERVES.

Little Talks on Health and Hygiene by Samuel G. Dixon, M. D., LL. D., Commissioner of Health.

Do you live on your nerves? Possibly you do, and boast of it as if it was something to be proud of.

Despite ideas to the contrary, few people ever work themselves to death. It is usually the combination of business and pleasure at a strenuous pace which does the damage.

It is so easy to go a little further on your nerves when you know that physically you need rest and relaxation. There may be times of stress and strain when it is justifiable to exert every atom of endurance, but this is only under special circumstances. To practice it regularly in order to over crowd one's days, is certain to result disastrously.

There is much in our modern life with its diversity of interests which tends to excite and irritate the nervous system. We should make an effort to offset this as much as possible. One may find pleasure and diversion without rushing madly about under high pressure.

People who live on their nerves until nervousness becomes chronic, find that it brings a train of evils, indigestion, worry, excitability, temper, and restlessness—all great handicaps to efficient work and rational pleasure.

Made Friends in Union County.

From the Lewisburg Journal

George A. Harris, Fulton county's favorite son, candidate for Congress against Benj K. Focht, was a visitor in Lewisburg and Union county this week. Mr. Harris spent the fore part of the week touring the various sections of the county and meeting the voters. He was piloted by Chairman S. E. Miller, of New Berlin, the new county chairman for the Democratic party.

Thus far Mr. Harris has been in several of the counties of the "shoestring" district and has made friends wherever he goes. He is a candidate of the people and for the people, true, honest, sincere, big-hearted and fully capable of representing the people of this great congressional district in the halls of Congress.

Wednesday evening an informal meeting was held at the Cameron house and a large number of Democrats, and Progressives, met the candidate. All were pleased with him and were free to express themselves and willing to vote for him at the coming election.

In every section of the county Mr. Harris found friends, many of them, both in the Democratic party and among the Progressives and even in the Republican party. They were all impressed with his straight forward manner and his sincerity.

Thursday morning Mr. Harris met a number of the business men and citizens of the town to which he presented his candidacy. He was compelled to leave for his home in Fulton county at noon Thursday, but will be back this way again before the campaign closes and will make an effort to meet and greet as many of Union county's citizens as he can.

Cline-Kope.

On September 27, 1916, Mr. Donald Cline and Miss Irene Kope were married in Fannettsburg, by the Rev. Kauffman pastor of the Presbyterian church of that place. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Cline, of Burnt Cabins. After a trip of several weeks, Mr. and Mrs. Cline will make their home at Braddock, Pa., where Mr. Cline has a good position with the steel works.

Dr. F. K. Stevens will be at Hustontown, October 9-10, at Dr. A. K. Davis' office, and at Burnt Cabins on the 11th.

He Got the Hay.

Last Monday, Mr. D. A. Black of Taylor township, made his semi-annual trip to McConnellsburg. He always comes "loaded" for the agricultural editor of the NEWS, and he has yet to miss the mark when he "fires." This time he hits us on the recent question about sowing timothy and clover in the fall without a nurse crop. He said he thought we were old enough to know timothy and clover would grow and pay good profits when sown that way.

To prove his argument, he said that the grass was nearly all killed in one of his wheat fields during the summer of 1915. After the wheat had been removed, he spring-harrowed the stubble, let it lie until September, and after having given it the second harrowing, he went in with the drill and sowed timothy, mixed with alsike and red clover. This summer he cut as fine mixed hay as any man could wish for—fourteen 14-foot loads from twelve acres, with a lot of hay left on the ground for good luck.

Now that there is no more doubt about the effectiveness of this method, will Mr. Black, or some other live wire, please tell us why the steep hills of Licking Creek township are not seeded to grass during winter months when the ground is cracked open to receive the seed, instead of first breaking the surface to let rains wash away the little remaining soil? Mr. Black's experience may be necessary frequently, but our second question is of importance to all hilly farms every year. Please answer soon, as frosts are already at work.

And the Gods Smiled.

The Chambersburg Public Opinion of Monday morning begins an editorial with the following paragraph:

"There are of the gods those who spend their time in laughing when odd things are enacted on this mundane sphere and these gods on Saturday evening must have smiled or perhaps indulged in a merry ha-ha, when they witnessed an occurrence in Chambersburg."

The occasion was the entrance of that unspeakably filthy set of gypsies that passed through McConnellsburg last Saturday, and the subject of mirth for the gods was the inconsistency—the ridiculous practice of the State authorities in permitting these filthy creatures to wander all through districts infected by infantile paralysis and then come into our towns and unload their half-score of dirty little brats to mingle with our children who are supposed to have been kept clean, not even allowed to meet in Sunday school, day school, or to attend any of the summer social events so dear to the hearts of children.

Spare the Pheasants.

Leading sportsmen of this section have requested the NEWS to enter a plea for the preservation of a few Ring-neck pheasants liberated on Tuscarora mountain last spring. It is known that there are some young pheasants this fall. It is also known that when let alone for a few seasons, Ring-necks multiply and become acclimated, so that we may expect by another year to have some fair shooting. This has been true in New York state where the climate is colder than in this state. It is to be hoped, therefore, that no Ring-necks will be killed this fall in Todd township. They were introduced in Dublin township a few years ago, and that fall all the tame birds were killed by pot-hunters.

On Monday evening, October 9th, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester B. Woollet of McConnellsburg, will celebrate the golden anniversary of their wedding. About one hundred and twenty-five invitations have been issued.
